TOP THREE MAYORAL VOTES

2.

NOTES
CANDIDATE QUOTES ON KEY POLICY QUESTIONS

SAN FRANCISCO SHOULD HAVE LESS HIGH-DENSITY DEVELOPMENT AND DO MORE TO PROTECT THE TRADITIONAL CHARACTER OF SAN FRANCISCO NEIGHBORHOODS.

STRONGLY AGREE

- Terry Baum
  I believe in transit-oriented development but note that much of what has been approved in San Francisco recent years ... (for example, One Rincon Hill) is freeway-oriented, overpriced, and overzoned.

- Jeff Adachi, Tony Hall, Wilma Pang (no added comments)

SO somewhat AGREE

- David Chiu
  In neighborhoods that are already extremely dense with buildings that reflect the traditional character of those neighborhoods, we need to be careful to not threaten their character.

- Paul Currier
  [Supports raising the high limits to four stories in the Richmond and Sunset; supports preservation of historic neighborhoods.]

- Emil Lawrence
  San Francisco has areas that need development and others that do not.

- Phil Ting
  While I believe that the iconic architecture of our city is one of its greatest attributes, I also believe that we should work to provide high density, affordable housing, especially near transit stops.

- Michela Alioto-Pier (no added comments)

SOMewhat DISAGREE

- John Avalos (no comments)

STRONGLY DISAGREE

- Bevan Dufty
  I initiated [the Upper Market Plan] that brought hundreds of Castro stakeholders together and formed a vision for new development. As Mayor I will do this citywide.

- Leland Yee
  I believe in prioritizing high-density development, especially along transit corridors. But I also believe that should be done in the context and character of the neighborhood.

- Leland Yee
  I reject the notion that San Francisco can’t do both. Is there more we can do to keep our streets clean? Yes. Do I believe that homeless people have rights? Yes. Is there more we can should be doing to make sure homeless people are getting the types of services they need to get back on their feet? Yes.

I BELIEVE THAT SAN FRANCISCO SHOULD DO MORE TO KEEP ITS STREETS CLEAN AND FREE OF PANHANDLERS AND WORRY LESS ABOUT PROTECTING THE RIGHTS OF HOME-LESS PEOPLE TO USE PUBLIC SPACES.

STRONGLY AGREE

- David Chiu
  Our city’s homeless debate often swings between a law-and-order approach that criminalizes behavior associated with homelessness and a service-based approach that does not always get to the root of the problem. We must integrate the two.

- Paul Currier
  Pick people up who are on the streets and put them in transitional housing. If court-ordered detox is required to get them assistance ... let’s do that. Sick people should not be delivered onto the sidewalk.

- Tony Hall
  Wilma Pang (no added comments)

SO somewhat AGREE

- Michela Alioto-Pier
  Balance can be difficult to achieve, but we have to focus on balancing the rights of everyone to have access to public space without fear.

- Bevan Dufty
  I’ve endorsed George Gascon because he’s committed to restorative justice through strong neighborhood courts, I’m proposing “wet” or pre-treatment housing for chronic public inebriates.

- Emil Lawrence
  Tourists like to come here and so do panhandlers. And, as the world economy contracts, for every panhandler we ship out, two more show up. So, this is a revolving or evolving story.

- Phil Ting
  We need to have a comprehensive, centralized, accountable and transparent homeless support program that puts its focus on getting individuals on the right pathway of support and leads to self-sustainability or long-term care.

- Joanna Rees
  I support finding additional revenue to fill our budget gap and ensure adequate services ... That’s why I support reforming the current business tax to a more equitable gross receipts structure.

- Wilma Pang (no added comments)

SO somewhat DISAGREE

- Bevan Dufty
  Successful programs, like Care Not Cash, can go a long way to help transition the homeless off the streets.

- Terry Baum
  We are a very wealthy city, and we need to invest money in creating supportive housing.

- Jeff Adachi, John Avalos (no added comments)

NO ANSWER

I BELIEVE THAT SAN FRANCISCO SHOULD INCREASE TAXES AND FEES TO PAY FOR MORE AND BETTER SERVICES, AND WORRY LESS ABOUT KEEPING TAXES LOW TO ENCOURAGE BUSINESSES TO LOCATE HERE.

STRONGLY AGREE

- Terry Baum
  I support levying a local progressive income tax and creating a local Municipal Bank of San Francisco.

- Phil Ting
  ... for chronic public inebriates.

- Wilma Pang (no added comments)

SO somewhat AGREED

- Tony Hall (no added comments)

STRONGLY DISAGREE

- Terry Baum
  This is another one of my campaign planks -- Transit so good you do not need your car, transit so good you do not WANT your car. I also believe that we should make Muni artistically magnificent.

- David Chiu
  To become a true Transit First city as was mandated in our Charter by voters, we need to encourage more people to use transit, walk, bike, or use car share.

- Bevan Dufty
  My five-year-old has to live in a world that is dramatically less reliant on single-passenger cars if it is to be sustainable.

- Emil Lawrence
  The one car per person era is chaos on the streets ... We should give the taxis, jitneys and peddle-carts more business.

- John Avalos, Phil Ting, Jeff Adachi, Paul Currier, Michela Alioto-Pier, Leland Yee (no added comments)

I BELIEVE THAT SAN FRANCISCO SHOULD DO MORE TO MAKE TRAVEL BY CAR EASIER AND WORRY LESS ABOUT ADOPTING POLICIES THAT ENCOURAGE PEOPLE TO WALK, BIKE OR USE PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION.

STRONGLY AGREE

- Bevan Dufty
  Our payroll and stock-options taxes are incentivizing too many businesses to leave our community as they scale, and should be eliminated across the board. ... We must [also] recognize that a high quality of life, modernized infrastructure, diverse neighborhoods and strong public schools are an integral part of any effort to attract and retain businesses in our community.

- Leland Yee
  I support finding additional revenue to fill our budget gap and ensure adequate services ... That’s why I support reforming the current business tax to a more equitable gross receipts structure.

- Wilma Pang (no added comments)

SO somewhat AGREE

- David Chiu
  Replacing the payroll tax with a fairer and more broad-based alternative like a gross receipts tax with varied rates for particular sectors of the economy has the potential to both increase revenue and create jobs.

- Bevan Dufty, Michela Alioto-Pier (no added comments)

SO somewhat DISAGREE

- Paul Currier
  One PUBLIC UTILTY we must charter now is a Public Bank, owned by our County of San Francisco. This Bank would receive title to all our public property, parks, buildings, watersheds, and cash or other instruments of value as our “value basis” of our reserve.

- Emil Lawrence
  This City has a tax problem, because wages and pensions are out of control. You just cannot keep raising taxes, citations, fees, schedules and the lot, and still expect people to keep coming here for economic and business reasons.

- Joanna Rees
  I do not believe those two priorities are mutually exclusive.

- Tony Hall (no added comments)
